Games To-day.

(Two games will be played by each club, morning and afternoon.)

Lynchburg at Richmond.

Danville at Roanoke.

Portsmouth at Norfolk.

Just to be polite to the visitors, our uncertain Lawmakers handed the second game to Mr. Grim's bunch. Morpheus seemed to have cast his somnolent spell over both diamond and grandstand, for it was a lullaby game, and a small, sleepy audience that watched three Hill Climbers and one Lawmaker cross the plate.

Somewhat must have put dope into our team's fee water, for nobody could see the ball except Riggs, who played the game on one leg. After the first three innings, Revelle pitched good ball, but the match was won in the third, when a few errors and some hits allowed two of the enemy to check. The only consolation for the fans was the part that the score-board told of Roanoke's victory over our hated rival, Danville.

Richmond scored in the eighth, when Riggs, who got two out of the four hits for Richmond, brought in Heffron with a nice single. Kirkpatrick played a decidedly strong game at third. He took all kinds of chances every where and never failed. He also led in the strike work. Stewart was reliable on the hit for Lynchburg, and had the heavy pounders guessing.

ison made one pretty assist, and, with the exception of Heffron, was the only man to reach third. In the eighth Heffron worked a free pass to first. Lipe flew out to center. When Kanzier was cut down at first Heffron passed to second. Then Riggs slugged a short fly to center, scoring his team-mate. This was all that Richmond did at the bat.

Stewart led off in the third round for Lynchburg by smashing a line drive to center for one bag. Davis attempted to sacrifice, but Kanzier fumbled the ball, and both men were safe. Bowen sacrificed to Revelle, going out at first, while the two runners passed to third and second. Then, with the infield flying up in center, Heffron passed the sphere to Sandherr, who was anxious to catch the runner at home, and fumbled, which scored Stewart and put Davis safe on third. Bentley tried to steal, but was nipped by Ison on Boyle's throw, while Davis was held on third.

Then Riggs drove the ball to right, scoring Davis. Kirkpatrick singled to center, but Riley flew out to Riggs. All was quiet and orderly until the seventh. Moss died at first, but Anthony cracked a one-sacker to center, stealing second. Stewart struck out. Davis sent a drive into Lipe's glove, fumbled, allowing Anthony to score. Bowen put a fly into Heffron's mitt. That is all except the score:

PULASKI DOWNED

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

EAST RADFORD, VA., May 29.—Radford put the hooks into Pulaski for fair to-day, defeating them 9 to 1. RAIN INTERRUPTS PITCHER'S BATTLE

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, VA., May 29.—Rain stopped one of the prettiest pitchers' battles of the season to-day at the close of the first half of the sixth inning, neither side having scored.

Both Chenault and Hallman were pitching in great form, despite the fact that a drizzling rain began in the third inning. Both teams were fielding cleverly and brilliantly. Chenault was wild in the first two innings, but was clever in the pinches, and deserved great support. The fans were hitting the ball hard, but snappy fielding kept the danger line far removed. The features were Seltz's great catch of a line drive between left and center, the fielding of Pitcher Chenault, and Jackson's clean double in the fourth. The score:

ROANOKE PLAYS IN CLASS A STYLE

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

ROANOKE, VA., May 29.—Only twenty-nine bugs faced Morrissey this afternoon, and the game was won with ease. Only three of the visitors connected safely with the deacons' curves. A star feature of the game was a succession of squeeze plays in the sixth inning, when three men were scored successfully, while three more were scored in the same inning on timely hits. There has never been a prettier exhibition of inside ball than that put up by the Hillclimbers. They played with clock-like precision, and every man carried out successfully the signals given. From the beginning Morrissey had the bugs guessing, and at no time did the leaders have a look in. Price was batted over the field at will, and in the sixth the locals ran bases until tired out. Ryan was made sick in the sixth after the batting was over, and retired from the game, being replaced by Studde. In many respects the game was a record on the home grounds, and will doubtless go down a record in the State. The score:
